

My Darling Kryptonite

-Drew Barnhart-

*You know I cry, I die, at every sight,
Each time I mark a sinless loyal hand...
False memory, my darling Kryptonite.*

*Fathers' inquests I've heard and I've made right,
These queries cold have ground my heart to sand,
You know I cry, I die, at every sight.*

*My princess, I'm your King, your proud white knight
I'll die for you, if that's what God has planned.
False memory, my darling Kryptonite.*

*Sweet girl, I want to hold you tight tonight,
The tears I shed have filled our Fathers' land,
You know I cry, I die, at every sight.*

*I've trained, I've planned, and I'm willing to fight,
I've longed, I've ached to be your superman.
False memory, my darling Kryptonite.*

*Oh Lord, please let me see her final plight,
The walk, the song, the word, the kiss, the band.
You know I cry, I die, at every sight...
That lying memory of you, my darling Kryptonite.*
