

Buds

Always plant the flower to watch it grow.
In a way this will help you understand,
by watching you'll learn what you need to know.

Even from the point where the bud is low,
when there is no color and seems so bland.
Always plant the flower to watch it grow.

More of its beauty will begin to show, seeming to be better than before. And,
by watching you'll learn what you need to know.

Eventually force the wind may blow,
greater are the situations at hand.
Always plant the flower to watch it grow.

You may become restless, for it seems slow.
Taller and taller the flower shall stand,
by watching you'll learn what you need to know.

Then the beauty will have nowhere to go,
small buds will never again seem so grand.
Always plant the flower to watch it grow,
By watching you'll learn what you need to know.
