

Italian Sonnet
Writing Sonnets

I can't seem to write a poem today
I have spent all my time trying to rhyme
So much time spent that it is my bedtime
My hair is even turning into grey
Soon it's going to be a whole new day
I should have done this poem in less time
Assigning this was a horrible crime
After this is finished I will say yay

Wait a second, I am almost finished!
The poem was inside me all along
Finally i will be able to sleep
I am so happy I will sing a song
Soon most of my stress will be diminished
I will see you when the alarm goes beep
